Where to buy Photoshop Elements Learn more about Photoshop ElementsA firefighter preparing to douse fires in the Playa Bonita development in Huntington Beach early Sunday morning set off a loud explosion that sent flames shooting through the sky and literally blew out windows in nearby homes. The explosion occurred at about 12:38 a.m., when the homeowner, who was outside and tending to his garden, heard a loud noise and saw the entire backyard suddenly filled with flames, said Capt. Robert Parker of the Huntington Beach Fire Department. Firefighters were checking areas around the house when they heard the loud noise, Parker said. Parker said the explosion was caused by a fire engine's backfiring, which ignited the tires and rubber holding the gas tanks together. An earlier fire in the same house sent flames shooting through the roof, Parker said. The homeowner and his wife moved into the house two weeks ago and were unaware that the house had been used as an Airbnb until that morning. "They had no idea," Parker said. The couple quickly moved their belongings out of the home and the homeowner called the real estate company. "The owner was going to evict them and they had to move in two weeks later," Parker said. One neighbor told the Huntington Beach News that he heard a loud boom and saw fire coming out of the back of the house, which is painted bright blue. "It was an incredible sight," the neighbor said. The home is now uninhabitable. Parker said an estimate on repairs to the home ranges between $250,000 and $300,000.Win America's first ever Kings of Swimwear competition and you could win a family of four We're giving you the chance to win America's first ever Kings of Swimwear competition. InP/ZnS/Si hybrid phosphor films as a X-ray phosphor. A new X-ray phosphor, i.e., a ZnS:In/ZnS/Si hybrid phosphor film (0.16-0.44 at.% In, 10-20 at.% Si), has been designed and prepared on glass substrates. The luminescent intensity was enhanced by adding Si into ZnS phosphor. The luminescence mechanism of In and Si (electron capture process) in ZnS phosphors was analyzed. The excitation and emission spectra and the luminescent images of the hybrid phosphor film were recorded using a measurement system with a synchrotron radiation source. The results showed that the hybrid phosphor film has good X-ray luminescence, better than the Si-doped ZnS phosphor./ * Copyright (c) 2000-present Liferay, Inc.
